

Greatness needs somewhere to begin.

JMMB has spent years telling Jamaicans that greatness already exists within them. Hack876 gives 80 young people one day to prove it to themselves.

DAY

ONE DAY TO BUILD SOMETHING THAT SHOULD EXIST.

What if young Jamaicans experienced themselves as builders before anyone told them what career they should have?

Before the business plan.

Before the degree.

Before the first job.

There is usually a first moment when someone realizes: I can build this.

For most young people, that moment arrives late, if it arrives at all.

Hack876 is designed to create more of those moments.

Meet Hack876.

Hack876 is a one-day build competition for approximately 80 secondary-school students from 5th Form through Upper 6th Form, working in teams of 3 to 4, roughly 20 teams in all.

Teams pick a real problem, use modern tools including AI, get guidance from mentors, and finish the day with a working prototype and a pitch to judges. It is not a school assignment and there is no answer key.

Our 9-school network in Kingston is made up of the schools where the Hack876 team currently has relationships and can coordinate most reliably. It is not an exclusive eligibility list.

Hack876 is open to eligible students beyond those schools.

Students from elsewhere in Kingston or other parts of Jamaica may apply, subject to capacity.

In this inaugural year, students outside our organized network may need to arrange their own transportation and, where relevant, lodging. Hack876 does not yet have the resources to provide those universally.

That is a year-one capacity constraint, not a limit on the long-term vision.

BUILD SOMETHING THAT SHOULD EXIST.

A hackathon is bigger than software.

Hack876 is an open build competition. Teams choose the problem and the medium.

Some will write code. Some will wire circuits. Some will design a service, a business or a tool nobody has thought of yet.

A team might build:

 A piece of software

 An AI tool

 An automation

 A data product

 A tool for small businesses

 Hardware

 A robot

 A physical prototype

 A resilience solution

 Something none of us expected

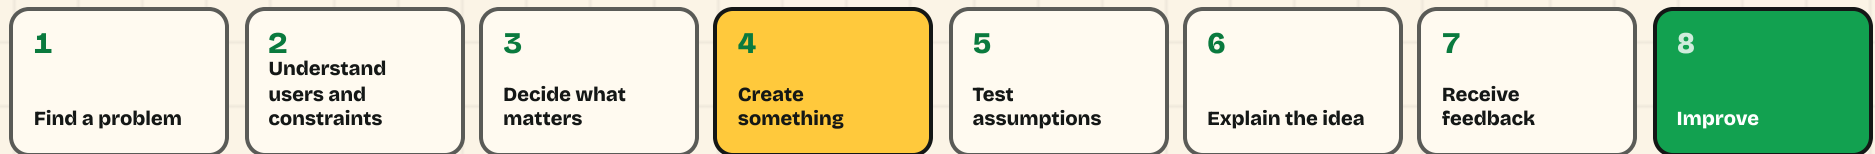

The medium does not matter.

The instinct to create does.

Education gives a young person tools. Entrepreneurship teaches them what they can do with them.

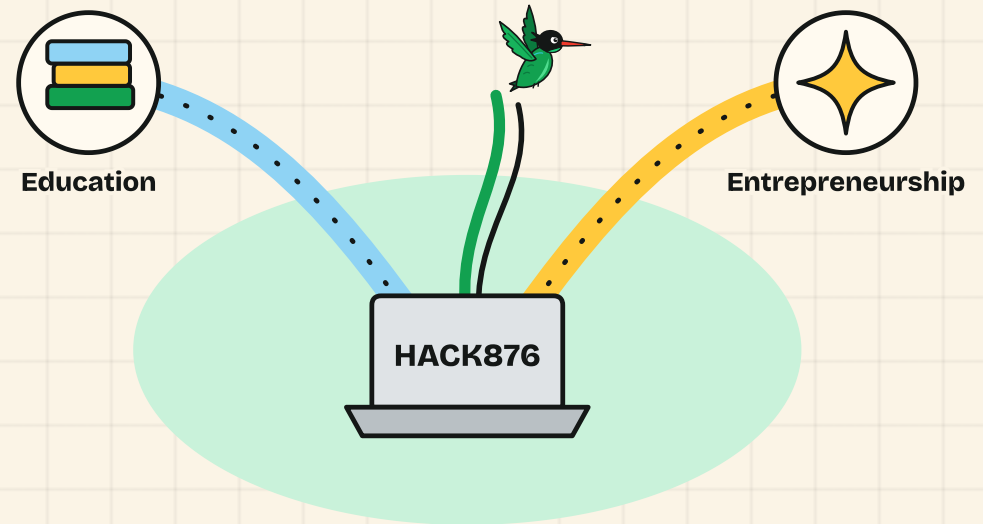

A hackathon may be one of the few environments where education and entrepreneurship happen at exactly the same time. Students are not learning about entrepreneurship. For one day, they behave like founders.

A FOUNDER'S DAY, IN EIGHT STEPS

↩ Then do it again, better.

That is not just STEM exposure. That is early entrepreneurial formation.

You already told us what you care about.

We built something that sits right in the middle of it.

THE FOUNDATION'S MISSION

“To develop, steward and support transformational initiatives in education and entrepreneurship.”¹

The Foundation says it sponsors scholarships because education is “one of the most powerful weapons we have to combat poverty.”²

It also says it sponsors and provides tangible support to entrepreneurial competitions among our nation's youth, awarding prizes to the top competitors.²

Through its partnership with UTech, JMMB supports the Joan Duncan School of Entrepreneurship, Ethics and Leadership, and its Conversations for Greatness work with the Ministry of Education reached the staff of 88 schools.²

In 2025 alone, the Foundation sponsored eleven youth summer camps, including STEM programmes.⁵

Hack876 is a youth competition built on exactly those two ideas: education and entrepreneurship, happening in the same room, on the same day.

The Foundation's belief:

“Every individual possesses
inherent greatness.”²

Belief matters. But most people first believe it about themselves after they have done something.

A working prototype at 4pm that was only an idea at 10am. A pitch that lands. A judge who takes the idea seriously.

I CAN BUILD THIS.

Hack876 gives 80 young Jamaicans one day to discover that sentence is true.

Every company starts before the company.

JMMB's own history describes Joan Duncan as a single mother of five who built her way up, and who in 1992 "virtually created the Jamaican money market" with Jamaica Money Market Brokers, co-founded with Dr. Noel Lyon.³

Her dream, in JMMB's words, was a company where "any Jamaican could walk in off the street, take a few hundred dollars from their pocket, and invest it."³

JMMB exists because someone saw the possibility of building something Jamaica did not yet have.

A problem.

An observation.

A conviction.

A first attempt.

Hack876 asks students one question:
what should exist that does not exist yet?

9 schools. One room.

Hack876 begins with the schools where we already have relationships and can coordinate most reliably for the inaugural staging. Formal confirmations are still in progress for most of them, and the network is not an exclusive eligibility list.

Partnerships work better when someone carries the context.

Hack876 is not looking for a cheque and a logo followed by silence. We want a relationship JMMB understands internally and Hack876 can execute well externally.

Jonathan Bair, Corporate Manager, Private Equity at JMMB Securities, is the person making this introduction possible.

Jon is also a St. George's College alumnus, and St. George's College is part of Hack876's school network.

If Jon is open to it, we would love for him to help steward the relationship on JMMB's side: carrying context in both directions, helping identify the right people to involve, and helping us build something genuinely useful over time.

WHAT STEWARDSHIP COULD LOOK LIKE

- ✓ Carrying feedback between Hack876 and JMMB
- ✓ Helping coordinate conversations with the Foundation and/or marketing
- ✓ Helping identify JMMB judges, mentors or speakers
- ✓ Helping find the most natural sponsorship structure
- ✓ Helping both sides decide what a second year could look like

An invitation, not an obligation.

There are two natural homes for this inside JMMB.

JMMB routes sponsorship and brand partnerships separately from charitable and grant requests to the Joan Duncan Foundation.⁴ Hack876 fits either, for different reasons.

PATH 1 • THE FOUNDATION

Mission alignment

- ✓ The practical intersection of education and entrepreneurship
- ✓ A youth competition, which the Foundation already supports
- ✓ Students behaving like founders, not just learning about them
- ✓ Nation building through young people who believe they can create

PATH 2 • MARKETING AND SPONSORSHIP

Audience, visibility and relationships

- ✓ Visible alongside ambitious Jamaican students, their families and schools
- ✓ Association with entrepreneurship, technology and youth opportunity
- ✓ JMMB people in the room as judges, mentors and speakers
- ✓ Content and storytelling around Jamaican innovation

JMMB's contribution does not have to be purely financial.

PEOPLE IN THE ROOM.

01

Judges

Evaluating problem selection, execution and the pitch.

02

Mentors

Business-model and customer thinking for teams that want it.

03

Speakers

Showing students what a path into finance and business can look like.

04

Founder coaching

Helping teams pressure-test an idea like a first-time founder.

05

Volunteers

JMMB team members helping the day run well.

06

General business education

An optional, non-commercial touchpoint where it fits the programme.

GROUND RULES WE WILL HOLD OURSELVES TO

No marketing of investment products to students.

No collection of students' financial information.

No implied employment, internships or accounts unless separately agreed.

The honest answer to the marketing questions.

Will JMMB be visible? Yes, across event materials, programming and post-event storytelling, at a level that matches the partnership.

Is the audience relevant? It is the next generation of Jamaican founders, professionals and clients, met early and in the right way.

Can it build longer relationships? Yes, through people, schools and a second year, not through leads.

WHO IS IN AND AROUND THE ROOM

Ambitious secondary-school students

Approximately 80 of them, from 5th Form through Upper 6th Form.

Parents and families

Who see who showed up for their children.

Teachers and school communities

Across our network of 9 schools in Kingston.

Future university students

Making choices about what to study and where.

Future founders and professionals

Meeting JMMB before they meet anyone else.

Many participants are minors. We will not promise leads, reach, impressions or data, and we will not position JMMB products to students.

Time

The size of the commitment can change. The invitation to be part of the first one does not.

Deliberately focused.

Our vision is national. This inaugural staging does not have national-event resources, and we will not pretend it does.

Approximately 80 students. A school network of 9 in Kingston. One day, done properly.

Build the first one well.

Learn from it.

Earn the right to make the second one bigger.

No multi-year commitment required.

2027

Help make the first Hack876 happen.

That is the whole ask.

FUTURE POSSIBILITIES, ONLY IF BOTH SIDES FIND IT VALUABLE. NOT COMMITMENTS.

A recurring entrepreneurship award

JMMB people returning as mentors and judges

Founder coaching for promising teams

Support for students from outside Kingston

Reaching more schools

HACK876 × JMMB JOAN DUNCAN FOUNDATION

Somewhere in that room may be a future founder, engineer, investor, designer or leader.

They do not need us to decide who they become.

They need an opportunity to begin.

HELP US BUILD THAT OPPORTUNITY.

We would love to explore what the right first step looks like with Jon and the JMMB team.
