HACK876 × SAGICOR FOUNDATION JAMAICA

PRIVATE PARTNERSHIP PROPOSAL

Where Jamaica's next innovators start.

Sagicor already rewards young people who use technology to drive positive change. Hack876 gives secondary-school students one day to try it for the first time.

WHAT HACK876 IS

A one-day build competition in Kingston for about 80 secondary-school students, 5th Form through Upper 6th Form, working in teams of 3 to 4. Teams pick a real problem and finish the day with a working prototype and a pitch to judges.

When: Saturday, February 20, 2027 (tentative)

Where: Spanish Court Hotel, Kingston (confirmed)

Who: About 80 students, roughly 20 teams

Organisers: Nadani Dixon and Stefen Ewers

WHY THE SAGICOR FOUNDATION

Since 2024 the Sagicor Foundation's Chairman's Innovation Award has recognised tertiary scholars who use technology to drive positive change.

WHAT WE ARE ASKING

A Bronze contribution toward the student programme and an existing special award.

Bronze Partner: J$50,000 to below J$200,000. Any amount within the level is welcome.

WHAT IT MAKES POSSIBLE

Helps support mentoring and judging on the day, and one of the three special awards students compete for.

Education, innovation and youth, in one room.

Hack876 is where a secondary-school student builds a first idea with technology, years before anyone hands them an innovation award.

CHRISTOPHER ZACCA, CHAIRMAN, SAGICOR FOUNDATION JAMAICA (2026)

"Sagicor Foundation Jamaica stands firmly on its mandate to be a key player in the drive to improve the lives of our youth and provide pathways through which each young person can access quality education."[1]

Since 2024, the Chairman's Innovation Award has recognised a tertiary scholar for creativity and originality, particularly in using technology to drive positive change.[2]

The 2025 Chairman's Innovation Award went to iLern AI, an AI-powered tutoring app built by a Northern Caribbean University student.[3]

In 2026 the Foundation awarded J$27.8 million in scholarships, grants and renewals, across fields that include engineering and technology.[1]

WHAT THE SAGICOR FOUNDATION ALREADY BACKS

2024

The Chairman's Innovation Award begins.

A new award for scholars who develop new ideas, processes or products, particularly with technology that drives positive change.[2]

2025

An AI tutor wins.

The Chairman's Innovation Award goes to iLern AI, an AI-powered tutoring app, in the year 55 scholarships marked the Foundation's 55th anniversary.[3]

2026

J$27.8 million for students.

44 new scholarships, grants and special awards, plus 131 renewals, chosen from about 1,400 applicants.[1]

2026

A J$500,000 innovation award.

The Chairman's Innovation Award supports a UWI law student's education and a vision for equitable change.[5]
