HACK876 × GK GENERAL INSURANCE

PRIVATE PARTNERSHIP PROPOSAL

Help young Jamaicans build for a riskier world.

Hack876 has a Resilience track, where teams build for storms, outages and the things families need to prepare for. Risk is what an insurer understands best.

WHAT HACK876 IS

A one-day build competition in Kingston for about 80 secondary-school students, 5th Form through Upper 6th Form, working in teams of 3 to 4. Teams pick a real problem and finish the day with a working prototype and a pitch to judges.

When: Saturday, February 20, 2027 (tentative)

Where: Spanish Court Hotel, Kingston (confirmed)

Who: About 80 students, roughly 20 teams

Organisers: Nadani Dixon and Stefen Ewers

WHY GK GENERAL INSURANCE

GK General Insurance's own leadership story began with a GraceKennedy Foundation scholarship in 1999 and an entry-level underwriting role in 2003.

WHAT WE ARE ASKING

A Platinum contribution toward the inaugural event, with GK General Insurance professionals mentoring teams on risk and resilience.

Platinum Partner: J$1,000,000+. Any level is welcome, and the levels are set out in the appendix.

WHAT IT MAKES POSSIBLE

Helps support the equipment teams build with, the prizes, student meals and the running of the day. Mentors help teams think about risk the way an insurer does.

WHAT GK GENERAL INSURANCE RECEIVES

GK people work directly with about 80 students for a day. GK General Insurance receives Platinum recognition and a written recap of what teams built, including any resilience projects.

THE NEXT STEP

A reply on whether GK General Insurance would consider Platinum or another level, and who should coordinate mentors.

Why GraceKennedy?

Because the alignment goes much deeper than sponsorship.

GraceKennedy was founded in Jamaica in 1922 and today operates across Food and Financial Services, with a stated purpose of enriching lives through trusted Food and Financial Services.[1]

For more than four decades, it has also invested in young Jamaicans. The GraceKennedy Foundation was established in 1982, and its scholarship history reaches back to 1980.[2]

That history includes the Carlton Alexander Scholarships for graduates of Jamaica College and the Faustine Sharp Bursary for a St. Andrew High School for Girls 6th Form student. Both schools are in the Hack876 school network.[2]

Within the Group, GraceKennedy describes insurance as one of its most exciting areas of growth, and GK General Insurance has already been through a digital transformation that introduced GKGOnline.[4]

Trust, judgment, preparation and decisions made under uncertainty sit at the center of that business. At Hack876, students spend the day practicing exactly those skills.

GraceKennedy already invests in young Jamaican talent. Hack876 creates an opportunity to begin that relationship even earlier.

Before the scholarship.

Before the degree.

Before the first job application.

What GK General Insurance brings cannot be measured only in dollars.

Funding makes Hack876 possible.

But GraceKennedy can contribute something equally valuable:

PEOPLE IN THE ROOM.

People who understand:

Trust · Risk · Customers · Technology · Data · Finance · Operations · Resilience · Businesses that last

- People who can take a 17-year-old's idea seriously.
- People who can ask sharper questions.
- People who can show students careers and problems they have never encountered.

01 Mentors

Helping teams reason through real constraints.

02 Judges

Evaluating problem selection, creativity, execution and communication.

03 Speakers

Showing students the variety of careers inside a modern Jamaican company.

04 Challenge partners

Optionally offering a real-world problem around resilience, customer experience, technology, data or risk.

05 Long-term connectors

Continuing appropriate relationships with schools, students and future Hack876 events.

Any sponsor challenge is optional and sits alongside the open competition. Hack876 stays open.

We do not simply want GraceKennedy's logo in the room.

We want GraceKennedy people in the room.

Become a Platinum Partner of the inaugural Hack876.

PLANT THE SEED EARLY.

Jamaica already produces extraordinary talent.

GraceKennedy's own history shows what can happen when that talent meets opportunity early.

The opportunity is to create more of those moments.
